

'This project interests me a lot, because it shows that with a half-millimetre-thin sheet of plastic and glue you can change the mood of a place completely. The locker room suddenly becomes human and fun. This type of thing can add life to an interior'

Philippe Starck